2. Product Design

Businesses and organizations may receive exposure at Creekview Family Fun Night by donating products or give-aways for attendees. Examples include balloons, promotional items or prizes. Items are subject to approval by the Recreation Department.

3. In Kind Donation

This provides your business or organization an opportunity to display information relative to your service at the event. Businesses may send a group of volunteers from their organization to set up and run various activities depending on the need. Banners or posters provided by that group or organization can also be displayed. Items are subject to approval by the Recreation Department.
